Experience Italy in a Wine glass

Terre Brune Carignano del Sulcis Superiore DOC

Harvest takes place mid-September to early October. Vinification in stainless steel with maceration on its skins for 15 days, allowing the fruit's rich polyphenols to release into the must; precocious and complete malolactic fermentation; in December, the wine is raked into new, fine-grained French oak barrique where it ages for a maximum of eighteen months. Ages in bottle one year previous to release. Intense crimson with slightly garnet highlights, very complex bouquet of impressive finesse, recalling plums, blueberries, sweet spices, bay leaves, juniper, tobacco, and chocolate; very rich, fruity and spicy on the palate; round, amazing elegance and sweet, noble tannins. A top wine for Santadi, from their best grapes and best vineyards (pre-Phylloxera.)
